

Expert

someone with a lot of knowledge, experience or training in something

Consultant

somebody who knows a lot about a subject and is employed by other companies to give advice about it

Executive

a high-level management role involving serious decision making

Specialist

someone with very detailed knowledge of a particular area of work

Officer

a person who has a position of authority in a hierarchical organization

Analyst

an individual who performs market research on segments of industries to identify trends

Coordinator

someone in charge of planning something and facilitating the occurrence of events or the collaboration between people

Associate

someone who is in a junior position relative to colleagues in the same position without the title

Anaesthetist /əˈniːsθətɪst/

A person who administers anesthetics (reduces pain), usually a specially trained doctor or nurse.

- Anesthetize (numb) specific parts of the body
- Apply various levels of sedation (put you to sleep)
- Expert knowledge of airway management (breathing)
- Expert knowledge of pain control

Coroner /ˈkɒrənəl/

A public official responsible for the investigation of violent, sudden, or suspicious deaths.

- Determine and certify cause/time/manner of death
- Order police investigations into death
- Legal and medical education & experience
- Approve burial/cremation/exhumation

Voice Actor /ˈvɔɪs ˈæktəl/

Voice actors perform voices to represent a character or to provide information to an audience or user.

- Speak in multiple tones and accents
- Read clearly in a natural, conversational manner
- Deal with an erratic work schedule
- Network to find job opportunities

Paleontologist /pæl i ˈɒnˌtɒl ə dʒɪst/

Paleontologists study the record of life on Earth left as fossils.

- Excavate (dig up) fossils from a variety of environments
- Analyse findings using advanced scientific equipment
- Publish papers and add to existing literature
- Strong scientific background (Geology & Biology)

Arborist /ɑ:'bərɪst/

A professional that plants, prunes, rescues, and maintains individual trees.

- Possess a vast knowledge of trees and the environment
- Diagnose problems and maintain individual tree health
- Plant, move and remove trees where necessary
- Prune dead limbs, fertilise soil and apply pesticides

Maître d'hôtel /meɪˈtrədeu'tel/

An experienced waiter that acts as the link between the kitchen, staff and guests.

- Be the face of the restaurant, greeting and seating guests
- Facilitate seamless operation between kitchen and floor
- Hire and fire staff, make schedules and take reservations
- Defuse guest complaints.

Sniper /'snaɪpəl/

Snipers, or sharp shooters, are smart, disciplined, stealthy, highly accurate marksmen.

- Consistently hit targets over long distances
- Remain concealed and camouflaged for days
- Skilled in orienteering, reconnaissance and infiltration
- In prime physical and mental condition

Audiologist /ɔ:di'bləʊdʒɪst/

Audiologists are ear specialists who examine, diagnose, and treat hearing and balance problems on a daily basis.

- Experts on ear anatomy and related health problems
- Clean ear canals, fit hearing aids and evaluate hearing
- Use audiometers, computers and medical devices
- Strong background in science, anatomy and physiology

1. Karen: That session on flexible working hours for productivity was great, wasn't it? I'm Karen, by the way. I'm an advertising executive from Code Red Media. What line of business are you in?
2. Jeff: Hi Karen, I'm Jeff. Good to meet you. I'm here representing Ironclad. We're a cybersecurity firm.
3. Karen: Oh wow, sounds technical. What does that involve?
4. Jeff: It can be a bit complicated. But basically we test companies' internet and network security. Imagine you're trying to protect your home against burglars, so you get someone to try to break in to your house, to identify the weak points. What we do is more or less the same thing; companies pay us to try to break in to their network; to test their defenses.
5. Karen: Right, I see.
6. Jeff: I'm a Network Security Specialist, which is just a fancy name for a 'friendly hacker'. Oh, have you met Helen? She's also in the media.
7. Helen: Have you tried the canapés? They're really good. Hi, I'm Helen. Actually I work as a Public Relations Consultant, but we do a lot of work with media companies.
8. Jeff: You're like a disaster clean up specialist, right?
9. Helen: Yeah, sometimes my job feels like that. I manage clients' communication with the public. It's kind of like checking your best friend's phone messages before she sends them to some guy she likes ...
10. Jeff: Pretty important role in any friendship!
11. Helen: ... except the best friend is actually a company, and the guy is the general public.
12. Karen: Sounds like a really interesting line of work. Oh, I've just spotted Claire Hoffman over by the drinks – she's like a guru in my industry. If you'll excuse me, I'd really like to introduce myself to her. Catch up after the next session?