a. Cheap Tickets

Usually it'd be too expensive but I found some cheap tickets which is why we were able to go.

b. Too long

I'm not a huge fan of performances that go on forever, even if they have good reviews.

That

➤ I don't like the person that is standing over there.

➤ We have to remember that he can hear us.

Which

(reason)

➤ He couldn't read which surprised me.

➤ They are sick which is why we cancelled the trip.

The concert was absolutely fantastic. I went with my friends and we weren't disappointed. The band members were as devilishly handsome in the flesh as I had hoped, and they also put on an energetic and lively performance that really got the crowd going. Tickets weren't cheap but good things rarely are. I'd definitely recommend you see them next time they're on tour in your area!

George Yang

I'm not really a fan of plays to be honest but this time I was pleasantly surprised. The actors looked superb with some really impressive costumes and the accompanying music was truly awe inspiring. It pays to be open to new experiences, so I'm really glad my girlfriend insisted on taking me. I'm really looking forward to seeing their next performance but be warned - it's a three-hour performance.

I've loved magic shows ever since I was a little girl, so I was ecstatic when they announced their tour dates. I'm sad to say however that I was really disappointed by how poorly organised everything was. The queues were long and it took forever to get in. Parking was a nightmare and public transport to the venue is basically non-existent. The show itself was pretty good though, so don't let me deter you!

I've been following live comedy here for a while now and I think it's still a great place to relax and unwind with your mates after work for some laughs and a drink or two. But as of late, there's been quite of lot of rookies taking the stage and some of them have been nothing short of atrocious. I get that newbies need a platform to practice, but you might want to vet some of the people before they take centre-stage.
