

Users are glaringly, obviously, and unnaturally stronger than their race because their capabilities are pushed beyond the natural level. They can be capable of lifting massive objects with ease and tearing through the strongest materials with their bare hands. Offensively, they can send opponents flying several miles away or release a force of energy equivalent to nuclear weapons upon an entire city.

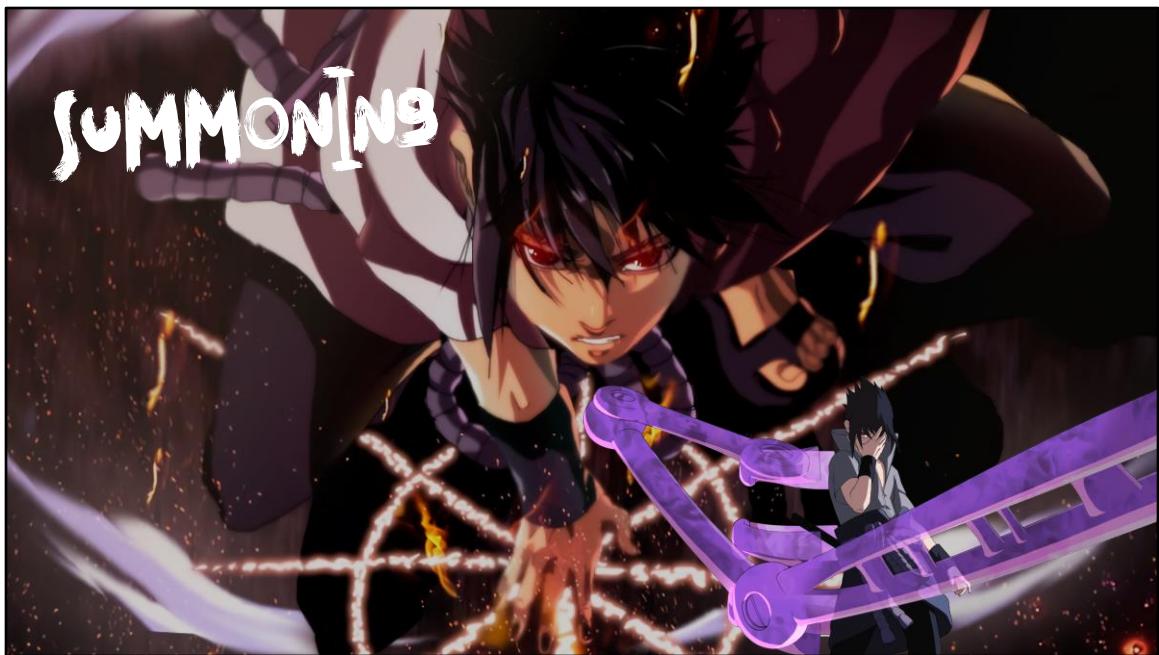

The user can fly or otherwise move through the air using various methods. Users are generally able to Levitate, Slide, and Glide as well and can fly at high speeds without any outside influence. Users can also propel or move freely while flying unassisted, preventing their bodies from touching the ground below.

The users can teleport; moving instantaneously from one location to another without physically occupying the space in between or transfer matter or energy from one point to another without traversing the physical space between them. Teleportation can be a valuable ability as it can be used offensively while offering superiority regarding movement speed and distance coverage.

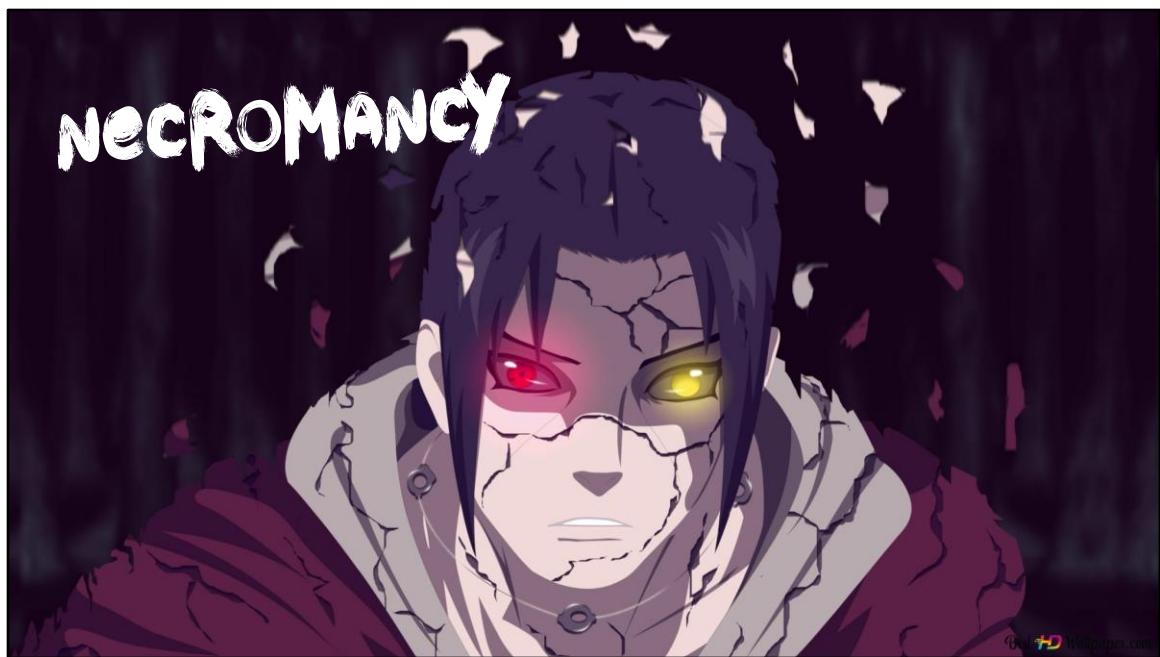

Users have the ability to move far beyond what is naturally possible for the vast majority of beings in their universe. Due to the wide range of speed levels within this category, the speed that users of this can obtain varies between: sonic, supersonic, hypersonic, light speed and infinitely beyond.

Users can transport a person, creature, or object of choice to their side. They may also form a summoning contract, which creates a connection between the summon and summoner. Users may call upon gods, fairies, angels, demons, or animal spirits, as well as tools, weapons and armour.

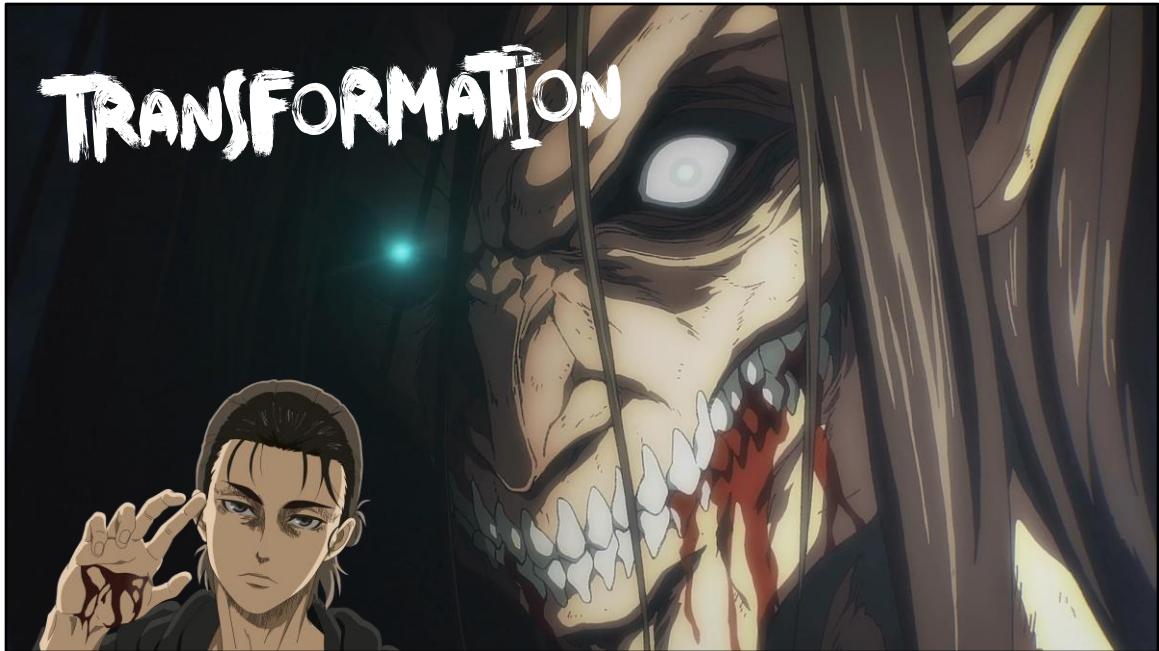

Users can create, shape and manipulate elements and various combinations of elements can be used to create other things. Users of Elemental Manipulation may be able to affect things composed of their element. The most commonly used elements in fiction are the four classical elements – Earth, Air, Fire, and Water with additional elements including Wood, Metal and Void.

The users either have magical abilities or have powers that revolve around manipulating the dead, death, the death-force and/or souls. They can also communicate with the deceased to foretell future events or discover hidden knowledge. More powerful users can directly convert the living into the undead.

TRANSFORMATION

The user with this ability can transform, whether partially or completely, as well as use the abilities, traits and physiology of whatever they choose by rearranging their own DNA structure. The user is able to gain unique abilities, skills and traits that transcend all of the user's basic limits.

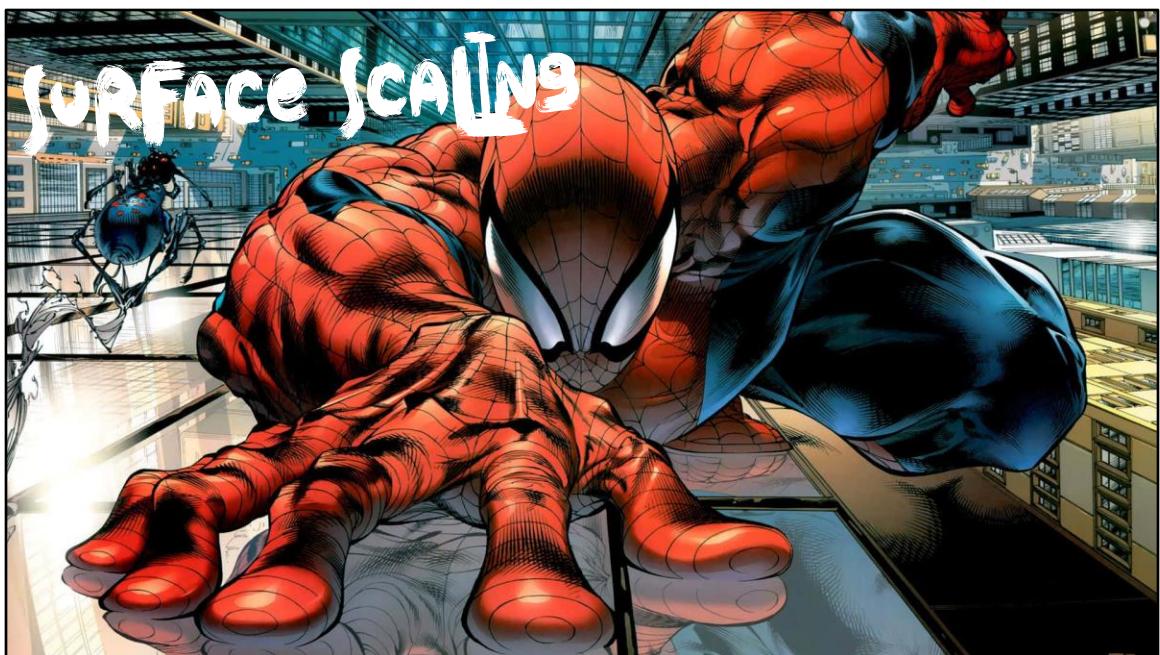

Users, either innately or through training, possess mastery in combat greater than peak members of their species. Against other humans, they are extremely skilled, being able to outclass most opponents with or without the use of weapons, being able to take on multiple aggressors at once. The user's combat skill is at the beyond zenith of natural human potential.

The user has the ability to manipulate or otherwise interact with matter or another aspect of a physical system through non-physical means, often with additional guidance through the use of gestures and general bodily motion and can mentally influence matter with varying degrees of accuracy and precision.

The user of this ability gains unique powers from their eyes, possibly by having special eyes containing a power that gives them abilities or enhancements. Eyes are the main factor of casting techniques, and any damage to them may disable techniques. Certain techniques can damage optic nerves per usage, causing the user to eventually go blind.

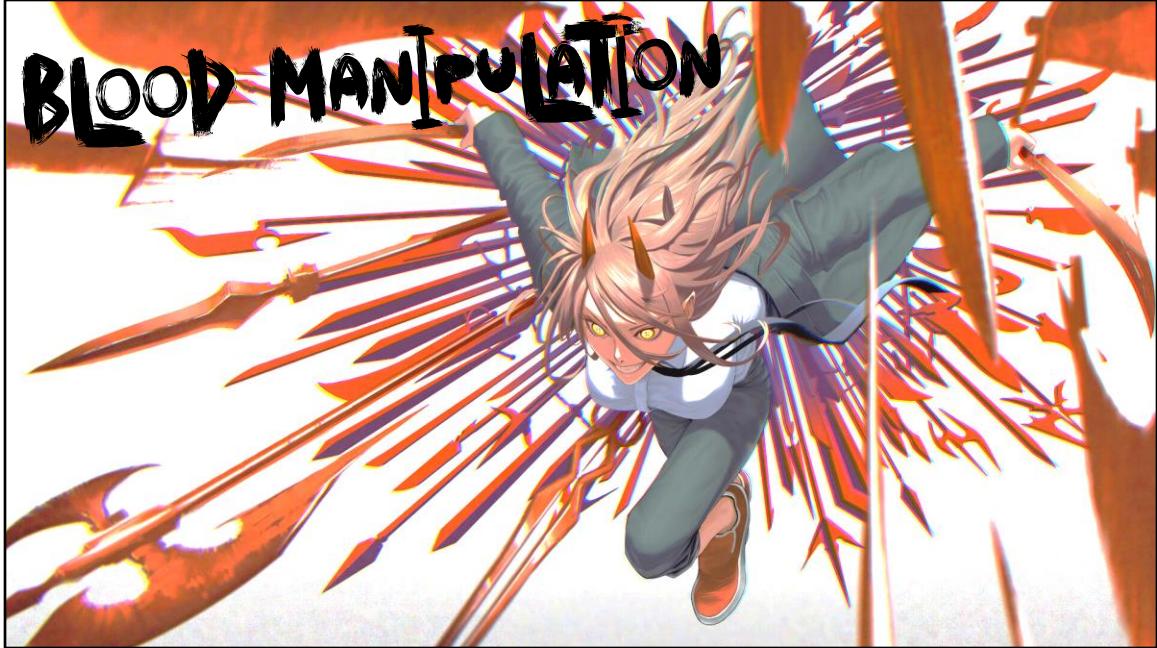

The user can scale any surfaces, including both walls and ceilings by walking or even running on them. They also have the power to fasten onto and climb vertical and horizontal surfaces without falling, no matter how rough or smooth they are. The user's body and skin could possess other adhesive properties in common with certain animal species, such as the suction pads of a frog.

Users possesses immortality, a state where one has eternal life and is undying. They never age, are completely self-sustaining, free from all bodily necessities, and can survive virtually any kind of harm, remaining immune to all forms of decay. Any damage done to the user would either be regenerated or simply remain non-fatal.

The user is immensely wealthy, having gained a fortune to various degrees in a variety of ways and able to use their money to fund a wide variety of things, such as scientific research or gadget building. While immense, the user's funds are not unlimited.

Users can create, shape, and manipulate all blood. Users can shape their blood into tendrils to strike enemies from afar or use it to trap opponents in a prison of blood. Users can concentrate blood into a single point, and shoot it out akin to bullets, or sharpen their blood to the point that they can slice and tear flesh with ease or solidify blood to use as rock-hard ammunition.

Users can render themselves unseen by the naked eye and become invisible in visible spectrum. The user can move about an environment unseen by others and act without being observed. Some users can choose to let certain people see them, while staying invisible to others.
